**Use (1) of Rick Warren's Bible Study Methods found in 12 Bible Study Methods (check with you campus groups pastor for available free copies)*

DEEPEN

1. Brainstorm with your group an activity that everyone could participate in and would enjoy.
2. As the leader, spend some time thinking of some reflective questions you could ask after completing your selected activity.
3. Attempt to tie those reflective questions to your current topic you're studying in small group.
4. After your group completes the activity, circle them up for a chat, a lunch/dinner, for coffee etc., ask your questions and make sure to end with tying the experience to the current topic you're studying.*

**the science of learning in Adults teaches that when you mix new content, new experiences, and guided reflection there is a higher chance of your group members actually learning.*
